WILL YOU TRY A PLAT OF ALFALFA

If We Will Furnish You the Seed
Without Any Cost to You.
A Liberal Offer.

Would you try a plat of alfalfa if we were to furnish you the seed without any cost to you? A large number of farmers in this county would raise alfalfa, if they knew that it could be grown profitably on their soil. Every farmer who is a reader of this paper, may try a small plat of alfalfa, at our expense. You are to pay nothing for the seed. We send it to you as a present.

We have made arrangements with the Farmer and Stockman of St. Louis, whereby we can offer any of our readers enough alfalfa seed to sow 1-10 of an acre. If this seed grows any your soil is found to yield alfalfa profitable, next year you can grow it as extensively as you desire. You can either buy seed and sow a large plat, or you can save enough seed, from the test plat to increase the acreage.

Send me $1.50 for the Crittenden Record-Press, the Farmer and Stockman and the People's Popular monthly each one year and we will send you enough alfalfa seed to sow 1-10 of an acre, absolutely free of charge. When you remember that alfalfa seed usually retails for more than $20 per bushel, you can see how liberal this offer is. We guarantee this seed to be the very best on the market and entirely free from weed and dodder seed.

When you sow it you are sure of having a quality of seed, which will enable you to make a thorough test of your soil. From time to time we will publish articles in our paper on how to prepare the ground and sow the seed to insure a perfect stand of alfalfa. Alfalfa seed should be sown in Kentucky any time between August 1st and September 25th. You should therefore place your order with us at once, and if your time is not out for our paper it won't prevent you from getting the benefit of this offer, we will just move you up one year from your expiration date.

The seed will be mailed direct to you from the Farmer and Stockman in St. Louis, which will insure prompt delivery.

Our paper needs no introduction to the farmers in this county. The Farmer and Stockman is the leading farm and stock paper in the nation. The People's Popular Monthly is one of the best home monthlies in the country.

Send me your subscription at once, you will never have another opportunity like this to get absolutely pure alfalfa seed, free of charge.

Use the coupon below and mail remittance today. Address all orders to S. M. Jenkins, owner, editor and publisher of the Crittenden Record-Press, Marion, Ky.

Crittenden Record-Press, Marion, Ky.
Enclosed find $1.50 for which send me your paper one year, the Farmer and Stockman one year and the People's Popular Monthly one year. It is understood that the Farmer and Stockman is to mail me postpaid enough alfalfa seed to sow one-tenth of an acre of ground.

Prosperity Arrived.

Paducah, Ky., July 25. — About fifty additional men were today put to work in the Illinois Central shops. All of them will be employed in the car department. The increase was necessitated by growth of business and the accumulation of bad order cars. The shops are now running nine hours a day and about 800 men are employed in all departments. Recently an increase was made in the machinery department.

Frog Sucking Cow.

"Politics make strange bed-fellows," is an old-time adage that your humble scribe has heard from childhood. But laying all politics aside, and laying all jokes aside, the strangest association of partners ever seen in these parts was seen lately in Summer Shade. Mr. Jerry Hoover, of Glasgow, was here last week buying stock, and went into the pasture of Mr. A. B. Mayfield to look at a cow. He found the cow lying down and a large bull frog sucking her. The frog was chock full of milk, seemingly at the bursting point, but still drawing for a larger supply. Though it was the regular pond species, it was over one hundred yards from the nearest water. —Summer Shade Cor. Edmonton News.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

Failure to Soak Wheat.

This county has lost thousands of dollars this year by the failure of wheat growers to soak their seed wheat in bluestone water. Every farmer who neglects to do this invites smut in his wheat and smutty wheat brings a low price and is not much wanted at any price. There has been a great deal of smutty wheat in the county this year, but wherever a farmer took the trouble to soak his seed wheat in bluestone water his crop was free from smut and on the market was chock full from 15 to 20 cents a bushel more than smutty wheat. The precaution is simple and cheap and we wonder that farmers neglect it. —Clinton Gazette.

Pres. Brownell.

Mr. H. G. Brownell, president of Bethel Female College at Hopkinsville, was in the city last Wednesday in the interest of the college. There has been a feeling in western Kentucky for many years that really good college work for girls could be found no nearer to us than the Blue Grass section or in Tennessee; but we are now assured that there is no where in this state a woman's college of higher standing or character, than this school. Great changes have been made during the past two years in building equipment and curricula and these changes have had the effect of increasing the attendance to such a number, that for the first time in its long history the enrollment for next year exceeds the capacity of the building. One of the largest residences in Hopkinsville has been secured for the overflow, and drawings are now being prepared for a new dormitory and gymnasium.

Especially attractive courses have been prepared for High School graduates, who will find there, three years work in standard college subjects. It is gratifying to know that we have so near to us an inexpensive school doing standard work, where our daughters will get home treatment under careful discipline, and where they may realize all of those college experiences that are so dear to those who have had them and so longed for by those who have no hope of knowing them.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

FOR SALE.

THE PINNEY FORK CAMP MEETING

Will Begin at the Piney Fork Camp Ground Friday Evening at Four O'clock.

Our annual camp meeting will begin at its regular time, Friday evening at 4 o'clock, August 11. We earnestly invite all denominations to come over and help us to win souls for God and make this the greatest camp meeting in the history of the church, which has been an organization near 100 years. Let us pray God for a meeting like we had years ago. If we worship as father and mother did these good times are sure to follow.

Let us come together with our hearts burning with the love of God, then we will see greater and good results.

Our meeting will be conducted by Rev. V. B. Costellow, of Erin, Tenn., a man we are sure is sufficiently able to conduct this meeting to the glory of God and the salvation of souls, if the church will give him their co-operation. C. T. Boucher, pastor.

July 22, 1911. — We the session of Piney Fork have resolved to publicly announce through the county paper our rules and laws by which we are to be governed during the coming camp meeting, which will begin Friday evening at 4 o'clock before the second Sunday in August, 1911.

1st. That we have no smoking on the camp ground in the enclosure, as it is very offensive to most people.

2nd. That we have no driving on the camp ground with horses and buggies and wagons except they are moving in or out of the camp ground, also that no one hitch to the wire fence as this is dangerous for stock.

3rd. That there is no stand to be on camp ground or near camp ground within the distance prescribed by law, except the located place of business of J. S. Crayne, which will be prepared to furnish the public with refreshments, bread and ice.

4th. Also we kindly request the public not to talk near the shed during service as this disturbs the preacher, also those who sit just within.

This done by the order of the session of Piney Fork Church.
C. T. Boucher, Mod.
W. F. Wilson, Clk.

Greeting—The Crittenden Record-Press greets the teachers of the county who are here attending the institute this week, and hopes each one will subscribe for the county paper while here, thus keeping in touch with the reports, honor rolls and entertainments of other schools and the instructions and advice of the superintendent as published from time to time. Teachers subscribing for the county paper, will be supplied with grade cards at .25 cts per hundred. Those not subscribing at .50 cts per hundred.

The Great Conservation Novel

CHAPTER XX.

WITH THE AID OF THE PRESS.

LEE VIRGINIA was now living a romance stranger and more startling than any she had ever read. In imagination she was able to look back and down upon the Fork as if she had been carried into another world—a world that was at once primeval, yet peaceful; a world of dreaming trees, singing streams and silent peaks; a realm in which law and order reigned, maintained by one determined young man whose power was derived from the president himself. She felt safe—entirely safe—for just across the roaring mountain torrent the two intrepid guardians of the forest were encamped. One of them, it is true, came of Swedish parentage, and the other was a native of England, but they were both American in the high sense of being loyal to the federal will, and she trusted them more unquestioningly than any other men in all that vast save only Redfield. She had no doubt there were others equally loyal, equally to be trusted, but she did not know them.

She rose to a complete understanding of Cavanagh's love for "the high country" and his enthusiasm for the cause, a cause which was able to bring together the student from Yale and the graduates of Bergen and of Oxford and make them comrades in preserving the trees and streams of the mountain states against the encroachments of some of their own citizens, who were openly, short-sightedly and cynically bent upon destruction, spoliation and misrule.

She had listened to the talk of the forester and the supervisor, and she had learned from them that Cavanagh was sure of swift advancement now that he had shown his courage and his skill, and the thought that he might leave the state to take charge of another forest brought her some uneasiness, for she and Lize had planned to go to Sulphur City. She had consented to this because it still left to her the possibility of occasionally seeing or hearing from Cavanagh. But the thought that he might go away altogether took some of the music out of the sound of the stream and made the future vaguely sad.

For the next two days Cavanagh slept but little, for his patient grew steadily worse. As the time of his fever mounted, Wetherford pleaded for air. The ranger threw open the doors, admitting freely the cool, sweet mountain wind. "He might as well die of a draft as smother," was his thought, and by the use of cold cloths he tried to allay the itching and the pain.

With the coming of the third night Wetherford was unconscious and unrecognizable to any one who had known him in the days of "the free range." He was going as the wild west was going, discolored, ulcerated, poisoned, incapable of rebirth, yet carrying something fine to his grave. He had acted the part of a brave man; that shall be said of him. He had gone to the rescue of the poor Basque instinctively, with the same reckless disregard of consequences to himself which marked his character when as a cow boss on the range he had set aside the most difficult tasks for his own rope or gun. His regard for the ranger into whose care he was now about to commit his wife and daughter persisted in spite of his suffering. In him was his hope, his stay. Once again, in a lucid moment, he reverted to the promise which he had drawn from Cavanagh.

"If I go you must take care—of my girl—take care of Lize too. Promise me that. Do you promise?" he insisted.

"I promise—on honor," Ross repeated, and, with a faint pressure of his hand (so slender and weak), Wetherford sank away into the drowse which deepened hour by hour, broken now and then by convulsions, which wrung the stern heart of the ranger till his hands trembled for pity.

The day was well advanced when the sound of rattling pebbles on the hill back of his cabin drew his attention, and a few moments later a man on a weary horse rode up to his door and dropped heavily from the saddle. He was a small, dark individual, with spectacles, plumply of the city.

"Beware! Smallpox!" called Ross as his visitor drew near the door.

The newcomer waived his hand contemptuously. "I've had it. Are you Ross Cavanagh?"

"I am."

"My name is Hartley. I represent the Denver Roundup. I'm interested in this smoky, smoky thing—merely as a reporter," he added, with a fleeting smile. "Did you know old man Dunn of Deer Creek had committed suicide?"

Cavanagh started and his face set.

"No."

"They found him shot through the neck and dying—this morning. As he was gasping his last breath he said, 'The ranger knows,' and when they asked, 'What ranger?' he said, 'Cavanagh.' When I heard that I jumped a horse and beat 'em all over here. Is this true? Did he tell you who the murderers are?"

Cavanagh did not answer at once. He was like a man caught on a swaying bridge, and his first instinct was to catch the swing to get his balance. "Wait a minute. What is it all to

Forest

Again that peculiar grin lighted the small man's dark, unwholesome face. "It's a fine detective stunt, and, besides, it means $20 per column and maybe a 'boost.' I can't wait; you can't wait. It's up to us to strike now. If these men knew you have their names they'd like for Texas or the high seas. Come now! Everybody tells me you're one of those idealistic highbrow rangers who care more for the future of the west than most natural born westerners. What's your plan? If you'll yoke up with me we'll run these devils into the earth and win great fame and you'll be doing the whole country a service."

The ranger studied the small figure before him with penetrating gaze. There was deliberate fearlessness in the stranger's face and eyes, and notwithstanding his calm, almost laconic movement, restless energy could be detected in his voice.

"What is your plan?" the ranger asked.

"Get ourselves deputized by the court and jump these men before they realize that there's anything doing. They count the whole country on their side, but they're mistaken. They've outdone themselves this time, and a tremendous reaction has set in. Everybody knows you've held an even hand over these warring Plets and Scots, and the court will be glad to deputize you to bring them to justice. The old sheriff is paralyzed. Everybody knows that the assassins are prominent cattle ranchers, and yet no one dares move. It's up to you fellows, who represent law and order, to act quick."

Cavanagh followed him with complete comprehension, and a desire to carry out the plan seized upon him.

"I'd do it if I could," he said, "but it happens I am nursing a sick man. I am perhaps already exposed to the same disease. I can't leave here for a week or more. It would not be right for me to expose others."

"Don't worry about that. Take a hot bath, fumigate your clothing, shave your head. I'll fix you up, and I'll get some one to take your place." Catching sight of Swenson and Lize on the bridge, he asked: "Who are those people? Can't they take your nursing job?"

"No," answered Cavanagh bluntly. "It's no use. I can't join you in this, at least not now."

"But you'll give me the names which Dunn gave you?"

"No; I can't do that. I shall tell the supervisor, and he can act as he sees fit. For the present I'm locked up here."

The other man looked the disappointment he felt. "I'm sorry you don't feel like opening up. You know

"I'VE HAD IT."

Perfectly well that nothing will ever be done about this thing unless the press insists upon it. It's up to you and me (me representing the conscience of the east)—here he winked an eye—"and you federal authority to do what we can to bring these men to their punishment. Better reconsider. I'm speaking now as a citizen as well as a reporter."

There was much truth in what he said, but Cavanagh refused to go further in the matter until he had consulted with Redfield.

"Very well," replied Hartley. "That's settled. By the way, who is your patient?"

Eloquently, concisely, Ross told the story. "Just a poor old mounted hobo, a survival of the cowboy west," he said, "but he had the heart of a hero in him, and I'm doing my best to save him."

"Keep him in the dark—that's the latest theory—or under a red light. White light brings out the ulcers." "He hates darkness. That's one reason son why I've opened the doors and windows."

"All wrong. According to Finson, he wouldn't put in the dark. However, it doesn't matter on a cowboy. You've a great story yourself. There's a fine situation here, which I'll play up if you don't object."

Cavanagh smiled. "Would my objection have any weight?"

The reporter laughed. "Not much. I've got to carry back some sort of game. Well, so long. I must hit the trail over the hill."

Cavanagh made civil answer and returned to his patient more than half convinced that Hartley was right. The "power of the press" might prove to be a very real force in this pursuit.

As the journalist was about to mount his horse he discovered Lee Virginia on the other side of the creek. "Hello!" said he. "I wonder what this pretty maiden means." And, dropping his bridle rein again, he walked down to the bridge.

Swenson interposed his tall figure. "What do you want?" he asked bluntly. "You don't want to get too close. You've been talking to the ranger."

Hartley studied him coolly. "Are you a ranger too?"

"No, only a guard."

"Why are you leaving Cavanagh to play it alone in there?"

Lee explained. "He won't let any of us come near him."

"Quite right," retorted Hartley promptly. "They say smallpox has lost its terrors, but when you're eight hours' hard trail from a doctor or a hospital it's still what I'd call a formidable enemy. However, Cavanagh's immune, so he says."

"We don't know that," Lee said, and her hands came together in a spasm of fear. "Are you a doctor?"

"No; I'm only a newspaper man, but I've had a lot of experience with plagues of all sorts—had the yellow fever in Porto Rico and the typhoid in South Africa; that's why I'm out here recollecting over the hills. But who are you, may I ask? You look like the rose of Sharon."

"My name is Lee Wetherford," she answered, with childish directness, for there was something compelling in the man's voice and eyes. "And this is my mother." She indicated Lize, who was approaching.

"You are not out here for your health," he stated, rather thoughtfully. "How happens it you're here?"

"I was born here—in the Fork."

"His face remained expressionless. 'I don't believe it. Can such maidens come out of Boaring Fork? No! But I don't mean that. What are you doing up here in this wilderness?'"

"Lize took a part in the conversation. 'Another inspector?' she asked as she lumbered up."

"That's me," he replied—"Sheriff Holmes, Vidor, all rolled into one."

"My mother," again volunteered Lee. Hartley's eyes expressed incredulity, but he did not put his feelings into words, for he perceived in Lize a type with which he was entirely familiar—one to be handled with care. "What are you two women doing here? Are you related to one of these rangers?"

Lize resented this. "You're asking a good many questions, Mr. Man."

"That's my trade," was the unabashed reply, "and I'm not so old but that I can rise to a romantic situation." Thereupon he dropped all direct interrogation and with an air of candor told the story of his mission. Lize, entirely sympathetic, invited him to lunch, and he was soon in possession of their story, even to the tender relationship between Lee Virginia and the plague beset forest ranger.

"We're not so mightily disinterested," he said, referring to his paper. "The Roundup represents the new west in part, but to us the new west means opportunity to loot water sites and pile up unearned increment. Oh, yes, we're on the side of the fruit and alfalfa grower, because it pays. If the boss of my paper happened to be in the sheep business, as Senator Blank White is, we would sing a different tune, or if I were a congressman representing a district of cattlemen I'd be very slow about helping to build up any system that would make me pay for my grass. As it is, I'm commissioned to make it hot for the ranchers that killed those daggers, and I'm going to do it. If this country had a man like Cavanagh for sheriff we'd have the murderers in two days. He knows who the butchers are, and I'd like his help. But he's nailed down here, and there's no hope of his getting away. A few men like him could civilize this country."

Thereupon he drew from three pairs of lips a statement of the kind of man Ross Cavanagh was, but most significant of all were the few words of the girl, to whom this man of the pad and pencil was a magician, capable of evicting her hero and of advancing tight civilization by the mere motion of his hand. She liked him and grew more and more willing to communicate, and he, perceiving in her something unusual, lingered on, questioning. Then he rose. "I must be going," he said to Lee. "You've given me a lovely afternoon."

Lee Virginia was all too ignorant of the ways of reporters to resent his note taking, and she accepted his hand, believing him to be a sincere acquaintance of her ranger. "What are you going to do?" she asked.

"I'm going back to Sulphur to spread the report of Cavanagh's quarantine." Again that meaning smile. "I don't want any other newspaper men mixed up in my game. I'm Lonesome Ned in stunts like this, and I hope if they do come up you'll be judiciously silent. Goodby."

Flurry in Michigan.

Bay City, Mich., July 25.—For five minutes last night a snow flurry occurred several miles southeast of here, the only snow ever recorded during July in this part of the state. A gale from the southwest lowered the river to such an extent that the traction and electric lighting plants were deprived of water for their boilers. Street car power and lighting current was off nearly an hour.

Snow at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 25.—It's true, for hundreds of Fort Wayne citizens vouch for it. This city had a snow flurry on the 24th of July. It came in the afternoon as the climax of a severe but short rainstorm, in which the thermometer dropped from 68 degrees to 51 degrees.

Accused of Stealing.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Mo., boldly accused Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains, and injuries of their terror," he says, "has a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at J. H. Ormes and Haynes and Taylor's.

Snow in Ohio.

Findlay, O., July 25.—All July weather records were broken here late last night by a fall of snow which lasted several minutes.

Over Niagara in Steel Barrell.

Niagara Falls, July 25.—In an eleven-foot steel barrell, Bobby Leach, aged 49, made a successful trip over Horseshoe Falls. He was battered and bruised in the drop of 158 feet but tonight is up and about his house.

Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, Niagara Falls, is the only other person who ever went over and survived, going over October 24, 1901.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply, strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. Starts on Long Voyage.

New York, July 26.—At the age of 73 years, James B. Hammond, the millionaire typewriter inventor and manufacturer, has set sail for a trip around the world in his new 95-foot gasoline yacht, Lounger II, on which Mr. Hammond says he expects to spend the remainder of his life. ROOF PAINTS

YOU ought to realize by this time that it is more important to paint the roof than any other part of the building.

Not only does it add just as much to the appearance, but the roof is exposed to the weather more than any other part. In addition to this, the roof has more to do with the protection of the building and contents than all the other parts.

Our roof paints penetrate the wood and make it impervious to moisture, thus the roof not only lasts a great deal longer but affords much better protection while it does last.

SEE THE BIRDMEN FLY!

AT THE GREAT UNION COUNTY FAIR

AUGUST 8 TO 12

5 BIG EVENTFUL DAYS.

At an enormous expense the management of the Union County Fair has contracted for a late model Curtis aeroplane and one of their most skillful and daring performers, Aviator Gratz, who has a world wide reputation. He will make daily flights from the paddox of the fair grounds, beginning Wednesday and continuing Thursday and Friday and possibly Saturday. Be sure and see each flight. Come early.

This attraction costs the Fair Company a large sum of money but from past experience the Company has learned that the people of Union county are satisfied with only the latest and best in the amusement line. And knowing that nothing is too good for our patrons we have at this extra expense added this attraction. Nothing else, however, has been cut and the other ten free attractions will positively be on the grounds as advertised.

O. Andrews and wife paid their parents and friends a flying visit Sunday. They report plenty of rain in their neighborhood.

On July 12th, Drs. Baily and J. T. Moore, run out to Walter Wigginton's in Dr. Baily's auto to see Mrs. Wigginton, and finding her much improved, soon got ready to return. After starting auto and running a few feet, the auto refused to go any further. After many efforts and hard labor it would not move. It was decided to run it down a bank into the road with the hope that it would go, but it still refused to move, so it was turned around and Walter brought out "old Sam" with the harness on, hitched him to the stubborn auto and struck out up the road in a trot to a shade, yet there was no life in the machine. After half an hour of close watching and busy time was given to find the trouble, but all efforts were in vain, so they sent for an expert, who soon arrived, and after watching and hard work, they decided to send a message for another auto to pull the stubborn auto into town. The summons was promptly answered, but while resting and meditating, they thought of the parable of the "ten virgins," so they hastened to the phone and said, "bring us some oil, boys, which they did in

It puts the liver in healthy, vigorous condition and cures the chills by destroying the disease germs which infest the system. Herbine is a fine antiperiodic medicine, more effective than the syrupy mixtures that clog the stomach; because it not only kills the disease germs, but acts effectively in the liver, stomach and bowels, thus putting the system in condition to successfully resist the usual third or seventh day return of the chill. Herbine is a cleansing and invigorating medicine for the whole body.

MARION BOY POPULAR DANCING MASTER

From The San Francisco Chronicle
We Clip The Following Reference to Bob Puckett.

Another important era in the rehabilitation and advancement of San Francisco is the opening tonight of California's finest dancing academy. Mapel Hall, at Polk and California streets San Franciscans are known the world over for their beautiful dancing of which they are proud. But they have rather neglected it since the 1906 disaster, when all our fine ballrooms were destroyed. Since then the lovers of the light fantastic have had to put up with what was left, until the able Dancing Master, Geo. R. Puckett, visited all the important cities of the East and procured all the latest dances and ideas. Upon returning, he opened Cotillion Hall at Market and Church streets. Overwhelmed with the success of this hall he immediately looked around for a location of a second one. After much time and thought, Mr. Puckett decided on Polk and California streets, as the most desirable, which tonight will be opened with what promises to eclipse anything of the days before the fire. The grand march, with 7000 people in line, will take place at 9 o'clock, being led by Miss Camilla Horan and Joseph R. Long. The committee: J. R. Long, C. H. Locke, S. J. Olson, F. Sehaty, E. Schuch, C. H. King, W. McAvoy, H. G. Perry and C. L. Locke.—Chronicle.

TOBACCO TIDINGS.

BY R. F. WHEELER.

Decide The Question.

There are many tobacco growers in this County, who are not members of the Association. It is the time of year for you to decide the question.

The Association will soon be compelled to close its books, for the season. It must make arrangements to handle the crop, and must know how much to prepare for. It cannot take members after arrangements are made.

That the growers of this County have a legal right to stay out of the Association no one denies. You have a legal right to sell your farm for half its value.

OUR NEW BAKERY IS COMPLETE

We can now supply you with fresh bread—The Best Ever.

Buns, cakes, cookies, pies, boiled ham, and in fact everything found at a first-class Bakery.

MORRIS-HINA GROCERY CO.

You have a perfect legal right to refuse to help your neighbor thresh wheat, after he has helped you. We are confronted in this life, by many duties that are not enforced by law. They are duties just the same.

Tobacco buyers, as a class, have as much honor and integrity as men of other occupations. He who tells you differently is only trying to incite your prejudice, but they are going to get your tobacco as cheaply as they can. That is the law of trade. You would probably do the same.

That the buyers of our tobacco are organized no one doubts. With the growers unorganized it would be as easy for them to get the tobacco at $3. as $8. per hundred. All who are familiar with the situation know this. It is a easy matter for the so called trust to give a good price for a year or two. Then raise the cry of over production and get it for several years at half its real value, if the growers are unorganized. This was done for several years before the organization of the Association.

But with all the growers of any type of tobacco all in one organization—One good strong, well managed, well financed organization, run on modern business methods, as is the Stemming District Tobacco Association, the situation is entirely different. It is an easy matter for them to maintain, not only a fair, but also a uniform price for their products.

That is why the growers of this district organized the S. D. T. A. Its success has been phenomenal. It has not only set the price on its own product, but on that of small pools, and independent tobacco besides. It is the hope, and only hope, under present conditions, of the growers of this district. No other pool can hope to get tobacco enough, for years to come, to control the market.

The Association is, in our opinion, on much the best business basis of any farmers marketing organization, operating in the tobacco belt. We know of no reason why you should not join it in an effort to get the worth of your crop.

That the Association has enemies goes without saying. So has any other live progressive business concern, and it is very much alive. It is the slothful that begat no opposition. People do not throw stones at a dead cat, neither do they pass resolutions against a graveyard.

In order to keep on the high plains of usefulness, that it has always occupied, it has been necessary for the Association to disperse with the services of some of its officers, and employees. As was expected some of these have turned out since to be its bitterest enemies. We think that people of this County, however, are "on to" that kind of tactics pretty well.

But we digress, the question is, are you going to help yourself and fellow growers, by pooling with the Association this year? If so you must make up your mind quickly. It will be an easy matter to stay out as heretofore, but have you reckoned on the results?

One year ago the Burley Tobacco Society was in the fight of its life in an effort to get the growers of that type of tobacco, to pool up and help keep up the price. The independent growers refused to join. They put up every argument, and excuse that is being used in this district

The Society was compelled to give up the fight. It declared the pool off. Although many independent growers had pretended to believe, that the Society had nothing to do with the high price, inside of ten days the price had fallen half.

Then it was that the independent growers began to get busy. They made an effort to organize. They held meetings, they hired speakers, they spent hundreds of dollars in advertising—all to no avail. They had lost their opportunity. One tenth of the effort and expense on their part, if used at the right time would have secured the success of the Society.

Much the same conditions exist in this district this season. While the S. D. T. A. controls more than 75 per cent of the tobacco and it realizes it must have practically all if it stays in business. We are speaking only as an individual, but we know that those who have been pooling with it are getting very impatient at the action of those who do not. They are going to throw the whole thing down unless all do their part. If you are a tobacco grower and are not helping in this movement you are losing the chance of a lifetime.

If the pool should be declared off, and the many million pounds of Association tobacco goes on the market independent, we will show you some of the liveliest "dumping" you ever saw. It will be a case of every man for himself and the trust take us all.

If any should happen to be caught with their tobacco tied up in some small pool, that could not weather the storm, should this occur, you will not blame us.

We do believe however that this will occur. We still have faith in the tobacco growers of this district. Some are a little slow to act, but when it comes to the test we are confident that they will do their part.

But you should not hesitate longer. Make up your minds, and decide the question.

Hogwallow News.

The weather has been so hot the mail carrier has had to cut some holes in the mail sack to prevent the chickens from smothering.

While picking one of his ears today Washington Hocks drew forth a long black roach. It was quite a surprise to him, and he thinks it must have crawled in while he was not listening.

Sim Finders has several children and either of them can get more amusement out of a bed roller for a play thing than a rich baby can out of a toy made in Germany.

The sun seems to be pretty regular in its daily movements. Luke Matthews says he has been living here for close on to seventy years and it has not missed a single morning yet.

A razor-back hog wearing a sheep bell has been making itself conspicuous around the postoffice for the past few days. The animal does not belong to any of our citizens, but will do so if the owner does not show up right soon.

Frisby Hancock is suffering from a sprained wrist. While winding his clock yesterday the crank hanger back-fired on him. He had just finished reading a piece about an automobile.

The postmaster says some of the handwriting on the letters is so bad he expects he will have to wash the post-office window.

Preaching last Sunday at the Dog Hill church was delayed about an hour on account of Tobe Moseley being behind time. Tobe says his mule balked and his watch stopped.

A supper will be given Monday night at the home of Jefferson Potlocks to raise money to buy some benches for Hog Ford church. In the meantime the congregation will please remain standing.

Isaac Hellwanger has devised a plan of traveling that may become popular. He has changed the wheels on his buggy, putting the rear tall ones in front and the low front ones behind. This enables him to rear back in his seat and look prominent, and also it leaves the impression that he is traveling down hill all the time.

Ellick Hellwanger came into Hogwallow today in a hurry and organized a posse of men to assist him in going to the rescue of his mule, which had become the victim of a peculiar occurrence. The mule has been in the habit of standing under a tree on Musket Ridge for several months and when Ellick went there today to feed him he found that the animal was utterly helpless on account of a lot of grape vines that had grown around him.

A mass meeting for discussion and decisive action on the fly question was held at the Wild Onion school house Wednesday night. Several lively addresses were made against the fly by many of our leading people, among whom was Fletch Henstep, who grew vehement in his denunciation of them. For awhile there was considerable strong feeling against flies in general.

Miss Rushia Flanary, of Scottsburg, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Rose Mayes.

James Dobson, of Fredonia, came over and cooked our sheep Monday. Jim knows how to fix 'em for eating purposes.

Last Sunday was a great day to Mrs. Rose Mayes. She gave a dinner and invited all of her relatives that were in reach to come. All that were present enjoyed the dinner and the day with her, although a light shower of rain fell most all the morning, preventing several from going. Those that enjoyed her hospitality were: Mrs. Flanary, the mother of Mrs. Mayes; Will Springs and family, George Kinnis and family, Tom Jones and family, Mrs. Ella Kinnis, Mrs. Fannie Black and family, Willie Rusha, Letta Flanary, Miss Lora Johnson. Quite a number of friends called in the afternoon to add pleasure to the occasion. The day was pleasantly passed in talking of the good old times of years ago, when each was just entering the threshold of life and enjoying the many good things Mrs. Mayes had in store for them. This re-union is typical of the great gathering over yonder after the battles of life have been fought and the victory won. There, all may meet to bid goodbye no more.

Health in this neighborhood is very good at this writing. Mrs. Lucy C. Moore and children are visiting her sister, Mrs. Fannie Hughes, near Crittenden Springs.

The Teachers Institute

Proceedings in Detail.

The teacher's institute of Crittenden County convened Monday morning July 31st. The meeting was called to order by Supt. Travis and after devotional exercises by Bro. Miller, the following officers were elected: Pres. T. F. Newcom; V. P., L. Mathews; Sec'y Francis Gray, Ass't Sec'y Mary Lou Wilborn.

Mr. Richards the Instructor, next addressed the institute. The gist of his remarks is as follows: Teachers must know the material with which they work and the methods by which they work and the material on which they work.

Teaching cannot rank as a profession as long as there is no preparation, indifferent supervision and inadequate compensation.

Outside stimulus is interpreted in proportion to the mental content. In teaching, pass from the known to the related unknown.

Miss Lena Woods in discussing spelling, says that the foundation is laid by writing, and prepares the child for future language and composition work. Discussion by Miss Bertha Moore and Mr. Allen Foster. If spelling is taught correctly, the pupil should know his letters by the end of the third month and know perfectly two hundred words by the end of the first year.

A. A. Fritts and L. C. Moore continued the discussion on the subject of spelling. It was decided that after the mechanics have been mastered, oral spelling should be shown preference in primary grades with special attention to written spelling in the grammar grades.

NOON INTERMISSION.

Monday afternoon: The institute was called to order by Chrm. Newcom, and Mrs. Barnes, representative of Public School Methods and Mr. Dodds, School paper representative, were given time to make their announcements.

The instructor then talked at length on the course of study for the Kentucky Rural Schools. He recommends it as being especially worthy of careful study.

RECESS

The period after recess was devoted to the subject of Arithmetic, Mr. Christian says that it develops the mind for original thinking. In the education values of the subject, disciplinary was given first place with practical second.

"Methods in Primary work" was discussed by Miss Householder. Mr. C. E. Thomas and E. E. Phillips discussed the difference between common fractions, Decimals and Percentage.

After a most able handling of the subject "Compound Quantities" by Miss Harris, the institute adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Tuesday A. M.

Song service: Devotional exercises conducted by Brother Mather, who in his talk extended both sympathy and encouragement to the teachers. He said: "Right teaching depends upon right ideals. The best we can do is capable of being improved upon. The power to teach comes from Almighty God."

Miss Sehon made announcements in behalf of the Orphan's Home, Louisville.

After a recapitulation of Monday's talk the instructor discussed Retardation of Pupils. A child is considered delinquent, when he is two years behind pupils with whom he has had an even chance.

Out of 17 million children in the U. S. 5 million are delinquents from causes frequently preventable, such as defective hearing or sight, wrong environment etc., Disease promotes criminality. The children need a chance.

Under the subject of Language, Miss Margaret Moore read an excellent paper which will appear in full elsewhere. Discussion by Mary L. Wilborn, Miss Wheeler, Mr. Hust and Mr. L. Mathews.

Miss Mary Lou Wilborn emphasized the necessity for teaching the mechanics in teaching primary Language Miss Hicklin recommended significant pictures and poems as valuable sources of Language work.

Under the subject of Language correlated with nature work, W. L. Matthews gave some splendid suggestions, while Miss Hazeltine Stephens gave a most valuable talk on Home Birds.

Storytelling was next discussed by Miss Wheeler and a list of stories suitable for all occasions submitted to the Institute. Since stories contribute to the imagination, memory, powers of expression, it was agreed that we must have more storytelling.

Grim's story of "The Town Musicians" by the instructor.

Noon Adjournment.

Tuesday Afternoon.

The institute was called to order at 1:30 promptly and Prof. Richards proceeded to discuss the prescribed course of study, insisting upon the idea of industrial education and making suggestions for change in the daily program.

Dr. Frazier was called on for an impromptu speech and responded, his remarks being both pointed and appropriate.

Geography was the subject next under consideration, E. E. Phillips, Miss Todd, T. F. Newcom, Miss Crider and Mrs. Barnes, contributed to the discussion and their remarks in brief were as follows: The object of teaching Home Geography is to enable the child to image the world which he has not seen, through the world which he has seen.

The mechanics of Home Geography include, geographical forces, Geographical forms, geographical agencies, plants and animal life.

The mechanics should be taught concretely; the content, in the abstract. Maps form a very important part in all geography work.

Magazines are one source of supplementary work.

Mr. Harmon of the West Kentucky State Normal made a very interesting talk on the Utilitarian value of Geography.

Mr. Henry Woods, representative for the Princeton Collegiate Institute made an announcement in behalf of this institution, after which the institute adjourned until Wednesday morning.

A SPLENDID ARTICLE

READ AT THE INSTITUTE BY MISS MARGARET MOORE.

"Oral and Written Composition Work--How Much of Each?"

Composition includes all expression through language whether written or spoken and of this oral expression is by far the greater portion. Too little attention is given to this form, especially in the primary grades. The child uses hundreds of spoken words to one written one, therefore the greatest care should be exercised over the oral recitation, not only in language work, but in all subjects, for every lesson is to a great extent a language lesson. Very few people can give an accurate and logical account of what they have seen or heard, because, they have not been sufficiently trained in oral expression. Since the chief aim of oral composition work is to give the pupil a ready command of good English, sufficient work should be done to secure the desired result. Pupils should be trained in oral expression until they can give a clear and interesting account of any subject with which they are familiar. Pupils need to know the meaning and usages of many words in order to express themselves fully and freely. Thus new words should be daily added to their vocabulary. Rich material for this purpose will be found in the field of literature, for a new word is soonest and best learned when found in a beautiful setting. Much care should be given to correct sentence formation. Pupils should be trained to make all statements and to answer questions in clear, correct and concise sentences. The monosyllabic habit must be discouraged. Oral expression may be further developed by reproduction work from literature and by story telling. Story telling is now recognized as a fine art, and should begin in the first grade and continue through all the grades, and then on. In the advanced grades pupils should be encouraged to enter freely into class discussions, and to take active part in debates upon topics of interest and importance, for these are excellent means of securing fluent oral expression. So much for oral composition, and much of the above will apply to written composition, since it logically follows oral expression, and a pupil's written work is predetermined by his habits and practices of oral expression.

Teachers should not require too much written work in any grade, but they are more likely to make this error in the primary and intermediate grades. The exercises should not be too many, nor too long. It is better to make haste slowly that the mechanical features of composition may be mastered. These include spelling, capitalization, punctuation, paragraphing, arrangement of subject material, neatness, etc. Much drilling will be necessary in order to prevent the formation of incorrect habits, because it is far easier to prevent a habit than to eradicate it when once formed. A few written exercises, carefully planned, will bring better results than a host of exercises given haphazardly. The topics treated and the extent of the work depends upon the advancement of the pupils, and the time to be allotted to the subject. Since letter writing will constitute the greater part of the written composition of most pupils after they leave school, training in this subject should begin early and continue until the pupil has mastered the various forms of letter writing. Much of a pupil's success in life will depend upon his ability to write a correct and timely letter when occasion demands. Other business forms, such as checks, notes, receipts, telegrams, etc., should receive attention. Much of the written work of the advanced grades will be in connection with other studies, as history geography and literature, and will consist largely of reproduction and biography. Original work in narration and description may be successfully used, in fact, the field is so broad, the material for us so abundant and the subject so vital that it behooves us to glean with care from this vast harvest, only such material as we can put into the experience of the child and that will be useful in the development of his life and character.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A great meeting is being conducted at Anthony Murphy's place two miles from Marion on the Memphis Mines road, by Rev. G. Y. Wilson, of Tolu. Much interest is being manifested and large crowds are attending each service.

SEVEN SPRINGS

Mrs. Mary Susan Holomon has been in Sikeston, Mo., several days attending her son, who got his leg broke, at that place.

M. L. Patton and Rev. J. C. Kinsolving, of Emmaus, attended Mission Day at Old Salem church the fourth Sunday. They report having a nice time and abundance of nice dinner furnished them.

Mrs. Pollie Patton and children enjoyed a pleasant visit at the home of Rev. J. C. Kinsolving and wife, of Emmaus, Sunday.

Thy word have I hid in mine heart that I might not sin against thee. Psalms 119:11.

Wiley Guess was in Lyon county last week looking out a location.

Jim Patton was a caller in this section Monday.

Burnie Patton, of near Old Salem church, visited his grandparent here Thursday.

There is a protracted meeting in progress now at Emmaus, conducted by Revs. Gibbs and Gregston.

Hershel Wring and wife, of Emmaus, and Will McClure and family, of Pinkneyville, were guests of L. K. McClure and wife Sunday.

Wheat is about all threshed in this neighborhood.

Rev. Bailey preached a good sermon in the revival services here on Saturday night July 15th. He used as his text Isaiah 55:7 "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord and He will have mercy upon him and to our God He will abundantly pardon."

Revs. Bailey and Sanders, of Trigg county, closed a meeting in this community July 16. Bro. Sanders used as a text for his closing and farewell address, St. John 3:14.

Hay bailers are busy now.

Quite a number of people from this section are attending the protracted meeting at Emmaus this week.

Geo. Kinsolving, of Emmaus, attended Sunday School at this place the 3rd Sunday, and gave us quite an interesting Sunday School talk. He explained the duties of a superintendent to the school and also brought out in his talk, the importance of a regular attendance of the officers and teachers. Come again. We are always glad to have all that will attend our Sunday School, for this is helpful to us and encouraging to others to come.

We are having little showers of rain occasionally. But for the showers we plead.

Mrs. Pollie Patton made a flying trip to her mother's in the Emmaus community Monday evening.

Tobacco is suffering from the dry weather.

Miss Julia Patton visited her brother near Tiline last week.

Letter From Supt. Jones of Franklin County Schools
Hon. M. F. Pogue,
Fredonia, Ky.

Dear Sir:-
I do not know when I have been more pleased than when I learned of your having been again selected by the Democrats of Livingston and Crittenden Counties as their standard bearer in the lower house of the next Kentucky General Assembly.

When I recall your fidelity to the cause of our common schools before the last Assembly, how we labored together in the preparation of a splendid bill, a bill that would in a great measure relieve the over-burdened taxpayer, securing equal advantages to every child in the state, that would secure a more economical management by preventing graft how this splendid bill, largely through your influence, was passed almost unanimously by the lower house; how we then labored together to secure its passage by the senate and our disappointment and chagrin when it was turned down by this body I say when I recall these things, and then realize the probability of your returning to the next Assembly, and know in advance that you will be sure to serve again as a member of the House Educational committee it pleases me, yea even tickles me to learn of your nomination.

I feel sure that the voters of your counties will show their good judgement in November by returning you to Frankfort.

I know they will do this if they appreciate your true worth in this capacity as do the boys who have been with you in the harness.

Supt. Jones is one of the best Supt., in the state, and is one of the few superintendents who have been enabled to get much out of the schools under the Sullivan Law. His glory is to work for the Common Schools from which hesprang. It seems that he found in Representative Pogue the man he had been looking for to help him solve the school question. While their patient labors of many weeks was dashed to the ground by the Senate, he hopes to take up the work again this winter and give the state a school system with no red tape but equal advantages to every child within the borders of the state. Supt. Jones will be in splendid position to give better service next time as he will be Supervisor of Rural Schools under Hamlet and have much to do with shaping School legislation.

Enormous Tax of $235,000.00

Astounding as it may seem, yet in the past fourteen years Livingston County has paid out on her public highways in cold cash $84,000.00 and in labor on her highways $121,200.00, and yet we are now, not only where we started fourteen years ago, but where we started in 1798 when the county was first organized. This does not take into consideration the amounts spent in labor and cash in the 100 years preceding the beginning of the above fourteen year period, nor does it take into consideration the greatest tax of all, the wear on mules, horses, wagons, buggies time lost in being forced to haul small loads all of which makes a tax that is beyond the finite mind to calculate but which is paid annually by the people of the county, just the same.

If it were possible to estimate the last tax item, the amount would be appalling. Yet there are those who would not move up a notch nor regulate to the rear the system by which we are not only paying fifty cents on the hundred dollars worth of property, but an amount so much above ten dollars that it is impossible to calculate or estimate it. Let us get out of the Mud and live up to the standard that the Lord intended when he created our county.

Faces a Water Famine.

Charlotte, N. C., July 28.—Long expected but for weeks averted by careful conservation the 40,000 inhabitants of Charlotte today are experiencing a water famine, with its attendant discomforts and dangers. The last drop was drained from the pond which has furnished the supply for years, and only 400,000 gallons, much less than a day's supply, remain in the reservoir. This has been cut off from users indefinitely, and in the meantime the people are dependent upon the meager supply of various mineral water agencies.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

CRITTENDEN CIRCUIT COURT, KENTUCKY.

By virtue of various Judgments and Orders of Sale of the Crittenden Circuit Court, rendered at the June Term thereof, 1911, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Marion to the highest bidder, at PUBLIC AUCTION, on Monday the 14th day of Aug. 1911, at 1 o'clock P. M., or thereabout, (being County Court day,) the following described property, to wit:

Situated in Crittenden county, Kentucky. The first tract consisting of 219 acres, and being the remainder of the W. B. Crier homestead after laying off his widow's homestead or dower, most of this tract is fine bottom land in fine state of cultivation, well improved, abundance of stock water, and well timbered. This tract will be sold on 6 and 12 months time.

Also 106½ acres of land lying near Bells Mines and known as the Stephen Rutherford homestead. This land is in a fine state of cultivation, well improved, well watered. Will sell this land on 6 months' time. The mineral and mineral rights reserved.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute Bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Good Hint to the City Scavenger.

All over the city pieces of paper can be seen lying about on the streets. This should not be. It should be a fine for any one to throw paper on the streets, or place it so it will be blown thereon. Nothing gives a town a run-down-at-the-heel appearance quicker than this. It is easily remedied, by placing covered cans at the main corners, and compelling everyone to throw the paper in them. We would take pleasure in filling one weekly.—Uniontown Telegram.

The Good Old Days.

A book that will strike an immediate popular chord is to be published by A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, in May. Nowadays the artificialities of life and the hurry and bustle of existence are brought home to all of us, and we are fond of recurring in memory to 'The Good Old Days.' Under this happy title, Mr. Charles W. Bell has written a kindly and humorous essay in which he contrasts the Old and the New in a way strongly reminiscent of Bill Nye or Mark Twain. The little book will be issued in novelty form, illustrated in old wood cut style, and will be sold at the popular price of 50 cents. Mr. Bell is Commissioner of Insurance for the State of Kentucky and has delivered his essay many times as an after-dinner talk, always to the delight and amusement of his audiences.

HARDIN BROTHERS

Cadets In High School.

Gov. Wilson has received a letter from the assistant secretary of war calling attention to the fact that provision has been made for the organization of high school cadet companies in the various states, and urging that Kentucky organize such companies. The war department is interested in having such companies formed and will furnish guns and equipment and all for rifle practice. It is necessary that the Kentucky legislature make some provision authorizing the formation of such companies, however, before any thing can be done. Gov. Wilson wrote the war department that he would recommend this to the attention of his successor, who could put it before the next legislature. Frankfort Journal-News.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only.
And Marion People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They help sick kidneys.

They are for backache, other kidney ills.

Here is Marion evidence to prove their worth.

Mrs. Emma Wellon, Salem street, Marion, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble annoyed me for five years and greatly affected my health. My back was lame and pained me most of the time. I had headaches and often could hardly see. None of the remedies I tried gave me any benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Haynes & Taylor's drug store. The effect of this remedy was marvelous, as in two months I was free from kidney trouble. My only regret is that I did not hear of Doan's Kidney Pills sooner, as they would have spared me much expense and misery."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

New Kentucky Mines.

Henderson, Ky., July 27.—Coal magnates from Birmingham, Ala., and western Pennsylvania paid a visit to the Webster county coal field today and before leaving announced that they would open several new mines in that section this fall. They expressed themselves as being well pleased with the coal deposits in that county. They will materialize plans for the operation of the mines after their return East. S. F. Baker a prominent coal man of western Pennsylvania was a member of the party.

As Webster county is only across a shallow stream from Crittenden and as many of the mines that have been operated ever since the war are in Crittenden down about Ghalstone, Rodney, Baker, Rosebud, Applegates and Bell's Mines it naturally follows that any developing in Webster will help us in Crittenden. Let the good work go on.

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms: shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HANNAH E. WAMPLER, 324 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

Get Oil Money.

Dixon, Ky., July 21.—The William Carmell Oil and Gas Company which sometime ago, took leases on quite a good deal of land in this section, has, through its representative, C. D. Carrothers, this week paid about $650 in rentals to farmers. In all, this company has paid about $1,000, to the people of this immediate vicinity.

Judging from the rentals paid out, it seems that this company has confidence in this section as an oil field.

AIR SHIP FLIGHTS AT UNIONTOWN

Will Be Star Free Attraction of the Great Union County Fair Beginning Tuesday, Aug. 8.

Tuesday, Aug. 8, the gates of the Great Union County Fair will swing open and the greatest meet ever held by that association will begin.

Secretary W. C. Bland is overflowing with enthusiasm over the prospects of the coming fair and confidently expects the races, exhibits and attendance to exceed by far any previous record. "I believe," said Mr. Bland, "the attendance on Thursday will reach 18,000. With the attractions we expect to offer it should reach that figure easily."

A number of the best free attractions obtainable will be offered as usual. In addition there will be offered as the star feature of them all airship exhibition flights.

For the first time since navigation of the air in heavier-than-air flying machines became practical the people in this section will be given an opportunity to see flying machines in actual flight.

Aviator Gratz has been engaged at an enormous expense to make flights on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. He will use a Rubel bi-plane made after the Curtiss model. Two flights will be made daily of from thirty minutes to one hour in duration. During these flights the aviator will make all the maneuvers known to airship navigation, showing what it is possible to do with flying machines.

Arrangements may be made to have Aviator Gratz fly to Morganfield and then back to the grounds. This would give an actual exhibition of the machine in flight from one city to another.

The grounds are all ready for the big fair. A new judge's stand has been built. This is across the track from the grand stand. The band stand has been rearranged so that it does not shut off the view of any part of the track. New steps leading to both the amphitheatre and the floral hall have been laid, all of the buildings have been repaired and a new fence has been built around the entire fifty-two acres.

The train service this year, says Secretary Bland, will be more convenient than ever. In addition to the specials from Uniontown and Morganfield every day the L. & N. will run a special from Madisonville Thursday, the I. C. will run a special from Dixon every day and from Marion on Thursday. The north-bound I. C. leaving Morganfield at 5 p. m. will be held until 6 or 6:30 p. m. on Thursday also.

Stepping on a rusty nail has been the cause of many cases of lockjaw. The nail was not so much the fault as neglect of the wound. If such wounds were promptly cleansed and BAILLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT applied there would be no lockjaw, as the antiseptic properties of the liniment would counteract the poison and the wound would heal quickly. Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by J. H. Orme, Marion, Ky.

Cheerful Giving.

Father wanted to test the generous nature of his son, so as the boy was going to church one morning, he said: "Here, Benny are a quarter and a penny. You may put whichever you please in the contribution box."

When he returned, his father asked which coin he had given. Benny replied: "Well, papa, it was this way: The preacher said the Lord loved a cheerful giver, and I knew I could give a penny a good deal more cheerfully than I could give a quarter, so I put the penny in."—Metropolitan Magazine.

Free Liver Remedy

It is well to stop a physical ailment at the first signs of its approach, and that is especially true of liver trouble, which can eventually give rise to so many serious complications. Many have liver trouble and imagine it is indigestion, and hence take the wrong remedy.

When the liver does not store up sufficient gastric juices it becomes sluggish, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. Then comes the salivary complexion, the pimply face, the dull pain in the forehead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. Jas. Kennedy, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. S. A. La Rue of Smith's Grove, Ky., and many others.

These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you will send your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is promptly cured with this remedy, or money will be refunded. Having tried it you can then buy it in the regular way of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and the latter is sufficient for an entire family.

This remedy is a vast improvement over cathartics and salts, which only do good for the time being. Syrup Pepsin is permanent in its results, is pleasant to take and does not grip. It is especially good for all those who cannot stand a violent purgative.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail.

For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For other request the doctor's address is Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 1150 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Largest Steamer in the World

London, July 25.—The plans for the new steamer Aquitania, which the Cunard company is building at Clyde Bank, have been modified to make the vessel the largest in the world. Her length will exceed 900 feet and be ten feet greater than the length of the 50,000 ton liner Imperator, which the Hamburg American line will put into service in the spring of 1913. It is also stated that the Aquitania will be one knot faster than her German rival. The original specifications called for a length of 885 feet and a speed of 23 knots an hour. She will accommodate 4,000 passengers.

Series of Mishaps.

Marietta, O., July 25.—The trip of the Congressional Rivers and Harbors Committee from Wheeling, W. Va., to this city, made during the night and Monday, was a series of mishaps. Four times the steamer Kanawha ran aground; the young son of Congressman Wilson, of Illinois, fell down a stairway and sprained his ankle and an awning on the upper deck collapsed, nearly dragging two Pittsburg detectives into the river.

The trip is under the auspices of the city of Pittsburg and taken with a view of convincing the members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee that the Ohio River needs improvements between Pittsburg and Cairo, Ill. In a way the day's mishaps were good arguments.

Claims to be the Oldest Methodist.

North Lewisburg, O., July 25.—Mrs. Sarah Austin who claims to be the oldest Methodist in the United States, having been a member for 93 years, celebrated her one hundredth birthday Friday. The event was made a holiday in the village, business being suspended.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it for forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequaled for lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor and J. H. Orme.

Hung Up on Sand Bar Again.

Portsmouth, O., July 26.—The steamer Kanawha, carrying members of the rivers and harbors committee on a trip of inspection of the Ohio river, reached this city late this afternoon and departed a few minutes later for Cincinnati. The trip from Huntington, W. Va., to this port was made nicely and it was hoped to arrive at Cincinnati not more than twelve hours behind scheduled time.

Wonderhose

FOR MEN

Here's a sock that all men have been looking for.

If you demand trim fitting hose—your own fancy as to weight socks should be—if you have any favorite colors, you will wear Wonderhose to your everlasting satisfaction.

The guarantee feature is especially attractive—there are no darning troubles because new are given free for any that punch through heel, toe or sole within four months of their purchase.

It is surely worth an extra premium to be insured against such an annoyance, and yet the price carries no penalty for this extra service.
